

NEW BABY? AN HSA CAN HELP.

With a new baby, everyday health costs can really add up. Save up to 30% on qualified health expenses with a Health Savings Account (HSA).*

Did you know?

For 2023, you can contribute up to $3,850 (with individual coverage) or $7,750 (with family coverage) to your HSA.

How an HSA helps the whole family

An HSA lets you set aside pre-tax dollars so you can save on qualified health expenses, including everyday health products, prescriptions, doctor visits and much more.

Is your budget ready for a baby?

When you put money into an HSA, you're saving up to 30% in taxes.* Which means the dollars you spend on healthcare go even further. Save it for future health costs, or use it right away to pay for everyday health and wellness essentials.

DID YOU KNOW?

You don't have to fund your account up front to save. Keep your receipts for qualified health purchases and reimburse yourself with tax-free dollars later. Just be sure the account is opened before any health spending occurs.

DID YOU KNOW?

You can raise or lower the amount you contribute to your HSA at any time, as long as you don't go above the maximum contribution for the year. Plus, once you open an account, it's yours forever – and the funds never expire.

Just a few of the HSA eligible expenses you can save on:

Doctor visits

Medications

Pregnancy & fertility tests

Breast pumps & milk storage bags

Baby health monitors

First-aid & children's pain relief

Nursing pads

...and much more.
